Top 10 states By Revenue showing median income and population

RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN REVENUE, POPULATION AND MEDIAN INCOME PER STATE
From observed trends, an increase in population leads to an increase in median income which in turn leads to an increase in revenue. all states seem to follow this trend except New York which inspite of having the highest population in the top 10 states by revenue, it has a lower median income compared to some of the other states. more analyses needs to be conducted to ascertain the reason for this anomaly.
